Quality of Life of Families with Children with Disabilities

1. Are you the parent or primary caregiver of a child (0-26 years) with special needs?

2. Do you want to be a part of a research study that could improve the Quality of Life of underserved minority families raising children with disabilities?

If you answered YES to these questions, you may be eligible to participate in the Quality of Life research study.

The purpose of the research is to develop an accurate and culturally-sensitive tool to measure the Quality of Life for low-income minority families raising children with disabilities in Michigan. Survey completion will take approximately 2 hours by phone or face-face interviews. We will pay you for your time and inconvenience with a $25 gift card each time you complete the survey. This study is voluntary and confidential.

This study is being conducted by the Developmental Disabilities Institute at Wayne State University and is funded by the National Institute on Disability Research and Rehabilitation.
