HealthCare Education Initiative

Join us for an introduction about our mission of improving knowledge of the unique challenges of individuals with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (I/DD) in the healthcare system, and strategies to better support their needs. You will understand how integrated health care is a vital component to achieving a quality life for those with I/DD. Learn how this inspiring training addresses the significant awareness gap among health care practitioners regarding the unique needs and barriers faced by persons with I/DD when accessing the health care system.

* MORC partners alongside individuals with I/DD who share personal experiences, education, and the impact of increasing adequate healthcare for the I/DD population.

- Current impact among students
- Personal growth of trainers
- Partnerships with University Programs.
- Highlighted topics from current training

SAVE THE DATE: MORC's hosting of 2020 Vision, the 20th annual Gentle Teaching International Conference in Ann Arbor Michigan August 19th – 21st 2020

With support of the Developmental Disabilities Council, MORC is available to provide an empowering experience for a variety of audiences. Opportunity to experience the full training will be discussed and available to schedule.

Adam Fuhrman, MA, LPC, works as both a clinician and the Peer Mentor coordinator at MORC Inc., where he helps individuals identify and develop skills that they can impart to other individuals with similar needs. Fuhrman is also an AAIDD-certified assessor for the Supports Intensity Scale. He received both his BA in history (2004) and his MA in counseling (2007) from Oakland University.

Amit Agrawal, One of our trainers who has experienced many barriers when receiving equal and adequate healthcare. He hopes by sharing my experience, and the experiences of my colleagues, doctors and other health care professionals will learn and better understand that the people they serve with disabilities are just like them. Even with overcoming unique barriers in our lives. At the end of the day, we just want to be understood, and we are so much more than our disability!

Jonathan Bowie, One of our trainers who has also experienced many barriers when receiving equal and adequate healthcare. His believes individuals with disabilities should have a voice when it comes to their healthcare and has become an advocate throughout this initiative.

Bonnie Mazzei, LBSW, QIDP, Project Coordinator. Has been with the agency for almost eight years as a Supports Coordinator. A fully licensed Social Worker through the state of Michigan who has work directly with I/DD population throughout her years at MORC.
