

OPEN

Emergency Food Resources are Available

Food banks and food pantries are essential service providers and can remain open.

During the COVID-19 emergency, many food pantries across Michigan remain open and will continue to serve Michiganders in need of food resources during this time of uncertainty.

Food banks and food pantries are carefully following CDC guidelines to safely pack and distribute food. Many food pantries are serving clients through a drive-thru or curbside pick-up service.

To find a food pantry near you:

Call 2-1-1

- 2-1-1 will provide you with the contact information for your local food pantry.
- You should call the food pantry directly to discuss the schedule and safety protocols that may be in place when picking up food.

Search Online:

Visit: www.fbcmich.org/resources/find-a-food-bank/

- Select your county to display your local food bank
- Click on the food bank to search their website for food resources in your local area

